THE WAR OVER YOUR WATER IS ABOUT TO BEGIN

A FILM BY SAM BOZZO

BLUE GOLD

WORLD WATER WARS

Film in EN with FR subtitles

“Finally, a water film that kicks ass...
A must see film for every person on the planet.”

Food & Water Europe invites you to the screening of “Blue Gold World Water Wars”

As Vandana Shiva puts it, we are in the generation of world water wars. Over time water is becoming more and more scarce and whoever owns the water, owns the power. Water is being bought up around the world and one day every single drop of water in the world will be in the hands of private companies.

What can we do about it?

Come see the film and meet one of the movie’s main characters after the screening - Wenonah Hauter (Executive Director of Food & Water Watch) and find out how you can help to keep our water in safe hands and protect it as a global common good.
